I give and bequeath to the Old Man's Home, of Philadelphia, the sum of _____
to be paid to the Treasurer, for the time being, for the use of said Society.

I give and devise unto the Old Man's Home, of Philadelphia, (here describe the property or ground-rent,) together with the appurtenances, in fee simple.

REPORT.

While the past year has been, comparatively, an uneventful one in the history of the "Old Man's Home," we gratefully acknowledge the innumerable blessings vouchsafed to it by the Giver of all good. Among the greatest of these is the raising up of friends who are willing and able to help us in our work, and who thoroughly appreciate the importance of sustaining an institution whose benefits are conferred on a class of persons who, because they had been previously overlooked, are peculiarly helpless. Particular professions have taken care of their particular invalids, and the city maintains a poorhouse which opens its doors to all who cannot find shelter or food elsewhere; but, until the "Old Man's Home" was established here, there was literally no refuge from want and suffering for decent old age, absolved at once from all unpleasant association and all humiliating sense of dependence.

That the "Home" has been growing steadily in public favor cannot be denied, yet it differs from many similar institutions in the fact that it must look to the public at large for support, instead of to special communities of men.

And this is so, because the "Home," while it is a Protestant establishment, is not otherwise sectarian, and therefore has no claim upon any particular church for assistance. Yet this very condition, which deprives it of a claim upon the special sympathy of any denomination of Christians, really entitles it to the consideration and favor of all. Looking back, as we often do, to the beginning of the "Home," when its accommodations were so limited that they could afford shelter to but half a dozen beneficiaries, and contrasting them with the present ample dimensions of the substantial and handsome edifice now occupied, we are indeed impressed, at first, with a sense of wonder, and yet all of that is soon made clear by our unquestioning faith in the abiding goodness of God. To Him we devoutly refer all the cheering results that have thus far attended our efforts, and to Him continually we offer our profoundest gratitude.

Since the last report was issued, every dollar of indebtedness then resting on the new building has been discharged, and there is good reason for hoping that, before very long, we may be able to make the same statement with regard to the ground surrounding it, on which there still rests a debt of $24,000. And just here it is appropriate to say, that some persons, having seen the newspaper announcements of several liberal bequests to the "Home," are under the impression that it must now be nearly, if not quite, self-supporting, and, therefore, not in need of any further aid. A few words will suffice to show that this idea is very wide of the truth. Until a charitable institution is fully endowed, and is deriving its support from the interest of money invested for its benefit, it must rely mainly upon its annual subscriptions and donations. It is generally known that the law allows the executors of an estate a full year before they can be required to pay any legacies, and, in some instances, even a longer period has been granted, in consideration of the difficulty, during a period of extreme depression in business circles, of disposing of securities needed to pay testamentary devises.

During the past year we have received but two of these legacies, namely, $950 from the estate of John C. Davis, and $3,350 from the executors of the late Jesse George. All of the others, up to this date, are unsettled, while several are contingent both as regards their amount and their time of payment, thus giving us a somewhat delusive appearance of prosperity. In the meantime, while every possible effort is made to exercise a judicious economy in the management of our household, the fact remains, that it costs a great deal more to live in a large house, with an increased family, than in a small one.

The single item of fuel is a very serious one, since old people, whose sluggish circulation cannot warm them, must be kept comfortable always by artificial heat. Their food, also, must be carefully prepared and of nutritious quality, if we wish to preserve their health and prolong their lives. General cheerfulness, mutual kindness, and gratitude to the Giver of every blessing, prevail among the venerable men who inhabit the "Home," and their thanks go up to God continually because they are made by the very pleasantness of their situation to recognize and adore Him always. In illustration of this, one of them, who has numbered more than a hundred years, and who is yet able to walk in the grounds of the "Home" and bask in the sunshine, was asked, recently, by a gentleman, if he was not tired of life. "No," he replied, "I am quite willing to wait the Lord's time to call me to Heaven, for I am in the next place to it now."

A very kind-hearted gentleman (Mr. Joseph Jeanes) having given a sum of money to be spent in any way that would promote the happiness of the inmates of the "Home," the Managers decided that a picnic in Fairmount Park would probably afford them as much pleasure as any other possible appropriation of a portion, at least, of the fund. Accordingly, on a bright day in September, the old gentlemen, accompanied by the Managers and Matron, were taken out for a holiday in that magnificent pleasure-ground. This was a new thing to most of them, although some of them had availed themselves a few weeks before of the kind invitation of the managers of the "Old People's Excursion," and they had not probably for years been at a festival in the open woods or elsewhere. Each had fancied that his days for that sort of enjoyment were over never to return. But these old gentlemen went to the park, they laughed and they made little speeches, they sang the old songs their mothers taught them and they bathed themselves in Heaven's warm sunshine, and thanked God that while they were so near to Him in their age, there were ministers of His here who rejoiced to take care of them in their weakness and loneliness.

We have very recently been called upon to mourn the decease of one of the most faithful members of our Board.

In the death of Mrs. Susan L. Keyser the "Old Man's Home" has incurred a very serious loss, and its inmates one of the kindest and truest of their friends. She spent her days in doing good, and her whole life was that of an exemplary Christian. She felt a particular interest in each inmate of the "Home," and did what she could for his temporal and spiritual welfare. Her motto was, "Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honor preferring one another; not slothful in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord," and she lived up to that sublime rule. Those who were intimately associated with her know how truly her pastor spoke when he said, "Every day she broke the alabaster box of ointment for her Lord." We miss and shall miss her always, and many more like institutions will long deplore her death as that of one of the truest and most self-sacrificing women that have ever tried and are still trying to establish in this world Christ's kingdom of love.

Philadelphia is called the "City of Brotherly Love." Its many charitable institutions entitle it to that name. Is there here or anywhere else a better one than the "Old Man's Home?" What is kinder, wiser, juster, and altogether better, than an institution which puts a decrepid and friendless old gentleman in a house which he can feelingly call his own, and where, with the snows of seventy or a hundred winters on his head, he can say, "I am at home and next to Heaven"?

While we return thanks to all the kind-hearted friends who have been thoughtful of our "Home," we would especially mention our indebtedness to the clergymen of various denominations who have so faithfully, so cheerfully, and, we trust, so successfully ministered to the spiritual needs of our inmates; to Drs. Girvin and Musser, whose skillful treatment and ready sympathy have served, no doubt, if not to prolong the lives of these aged men, at least to render their declining days less painful; and to Mr. Alexander Brown, who so conscientiously fulfilled the unwritten wishes of his late father in regard to the "Home."

Nor can our efficient Matron be overlooked. Only those who are always under her care know how indefatigable she is in the performance of her onerous duties, and with what Christian patience and endurance she bears the many trials necessarily incident to her position.

There are thirty-eight inmates now in the "Home." During the year there have been ten admissions and two deaths.

The conditions of admission are, for applicants of the age of seventy and upwards, $150; for persons between sixty-five and seventy, $250; and for those under sixty-five, $500. No one will be received who is less than sixty years old.

Applications should be written and accompanied by at least three references, and may be sent to either member of the Committee on Applications.

The house is open daily (Sunday excepted) to visitors, and the Matron will be happy to receive persons who are interested in it.

By order of the Board.

MRS. FRED'K W. GRAYSON,
Secretary.

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I give and bequeath to the Old Man's Home, of Philadelphia, the sum of
to be paid to the Treasurer, for the time being, for the use of said Society.

DEVISE OF REAL ESTATE.

I give and devise unto the Old Man's Home, of Philadelphia, (here describe the property or ground-rent,) together with the appurtenances, in fee simple.

REPORT.

When we issued, last year, our tenth annual report, we had the pleasure of telling our friends that "every dollar of indebtedness" on our new and beautiful "Home" had been discharged, and that we had good reason to hope we should, in another year be enabled to say as much concerning the entire property. This hope has not been disappointed. Several legacies have since been received. The executors of the late Asa Whitney, with rare liberality, paid to the Managers the whole of his munificent bequest of $20,000, without deducting the collateral inheritance tax, and in bonds of such good repute that they were sold to a friend of the "Home" for more than the amount of the bequest. These gentlemen will no doubt be glad to know that, in consequence of their considerate action, the Managers have had the great satisfaction of discharging all claims against them, so that the whole property is now quite free from debt.

The object for which this "Home" was established appeals very strongly to the sympathies of old people particularly, and our past success will not permit us to doubt that our Heavenly Father will continue to raise up for us friends who have both the will and the power to aid our efforts in support of this noble and greatly-needed charity.

In one respect, our present report is not altogether satisfactory. The list of annual subscriptions, as well as that of donations, is very seriously curtailed. This may be attributed in a large measure to the present wide-spread pecuniary embarrassment, from the effects of which very few persons are exempt. Another reason, no doubt, is, that many of our friends are under the erroneous impression that the "Home," being free from debt, no longer needs assistance. Yet a man may live in his own house and starve to death, if he cannot raise money to buy food. This is precisely the condition of any institution until it is endowed. Hitherto, all large sums of money contributed to the "Home" have necessarily and of choice been devoted to the payment of its debt at the earliest possible moment. In future, our aim will be to so invest all gifts and legacies that the "Home" will derive an income from them which will eventually, we trust, be sufficient to defray the current expenses, and thus supersede the necessity of soliciting subscriptions. It seems, indeed, hardly right to use such contributions in any way than that intended by the givers, viz., as additions to our permanent fund, and only absolute necessity will justify the Managers in appropriating them to meet the daily wants of the family.

Our friends and the public must be well aware that asking aid for even a worthy and noble object is not an agreeable duty, and they may be sure that the first persons to admit that the unpleasant necessity for doing so no longer exists will be the Managers themselves. In the meantime, we venture to hope that all who are and who have been interested in this work, and whose sympathy has heretofore been so substantially attested, will continue to assist us to provide for a large and helpless family. It is hardly possible to conceive of a household more dependent than one composed of old and feeble men, who have been deprived of their natural protectors by misfortune or death. They are intrusted to our care, and with God's help we mean to fulfill our whole duty to them; moreover, we shall not weary in well doing until this "Home" is filled to its utmost capacity with the class of beneficiaries for whom it was established, but who cannot be received until we have the means to maintain them. No one can conceive the pain of being compelled to close our doors against a poor, tottering old man who vainly implores our protection.

Since last year's report, four of the old gentlemen have been borne away to their last resting-place, and among them was the patriarch of the family, who died in his one hundred and second year, with wonderfully-preserved faculties of mind and body. Death had no terrors for him, and, with an earnest and unwavering faith in his blessed Redeemer, he passed gently away, truly "falling asleep in Jesus." Another death was that of a man of rather remarkable acquirements as a scholar. He was a Prussian and a Jew by birth, and was very familiar, not only with the Greek and Hebrew, but with several other languages. He had passed some years in Oriental lands, where he became a Christian, and we had no reason to doubt the sincerity of his conversion. Men of various nationalities and of divers religious denominations are gathered here under one roof, in one of those "Homes" that are possible only in Christian lands, where the poor, the suffering, the aged, and the little children never appeal in vain for succor to the faithful and earnest follower in the footsteps of the meek and lowly Jesus.

That kind friend of the old men, who believes both in the sanitary and pleasurable effects of a day in the woods, again furnished the means to enable the Managers to take them on an excursion and picnic to one of the loveliest of the shady retreats in Fairmount Park. The money certainly could not be expended in any way that would insure a greater amount of pure and wholesome enjoyment.

The year has been marked by the resignation from our Board of several valued Managers, among them that of Mrs. John S. Henry, who had been First Directress of the institution since its organization. Her gentle, kindly presence has been greatly missed at our meetings for some time. Her warm attachment to and interest in the "Home" made her shrink from severing the link that bound her to it, and she yielded at last, only when her delicate health prevented her from fulfilling her duties as she wished.

Death has again taken one of our co-workers, Mrs. Yarnall. The following resolution in regard to this sad event was adopted at the May meeting:—

"Resolved, That the Managers of the Old Man's Home deeply deplore the death of their late associate, Mrs. Hibberd Yarnall; that in her decease the Board has lost one of its most faithful, intelligent, and devoted members, whose services were inspired by an earnest spirit of charity for all, and a devout sense of religious duty; that in all her relations, both private and public, she proved herself a model woman, wife, and mother, whose character was illustrated in a remarkable degree by the graces of a true Christian faith and love; and that in her life she has left to all who knew her and were associated with her, an example of unselfish goodness, purity of intention, enlightened judgment, and untiring zeal in the discharge of all labors and responsibilities devolved upon her, that is worthy of lasting regard and universal imitation."

There have been six admissions.

The health of the inmates generally has been good. Only such disorders prevail as are incident to old age. The sick are most carefully nursed by the Matron and her son, Mr. Baker Scanlan, whose kindness and efficiency are deserving of special commendation.

Religious services are held regularly on Sunday and Thursday afternoons, at which ministers of various Protestant denominations officiate. The inmates are faithful in their attendance, and many of them manifest a deep interest in the religious instruction which is provided principally for those whose infirmities prevent them from going to church.

In view of the influx of strangers who will visit our city next year, the Managers are extremely anxious to put their grounds in good order, and, if possible, to replace the present dilapidated fence by a substantial iron railing. Such an expense, however, is not to be thought of unless some of the generous friends of the "Home" shall feel disposed to assist us to make in this manner a respectable appearance before our visitors.

In closing this report, we desire to express our thanks to our excellent physicians, Drs. Musser and Girvin, and to the various clergymen who have endeavored to promote the spiritual welfare of the family by their faithful ministrations.

The "Home" now contains forty inmates.

The conditions of admission are, for applicants of the age of seventy and upward, $150; for persons between sixty-five and seventy, $250; and for those under sixty-five, $500. No one will be received who is under sixty.

Applications should be written and accompanied by at least three references, and may be sent to either member of the Committee on Applications.

The house is open to visitors daily, except Sunday, and the Matron will be happy to receive persons who are interested in it.

By order of the Board.

MRS. FRED'K W. GRAYSON,
Secretary.

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I give and bequeath to the Old Man's Home, of Philadelphia, the sum of
to be paid to the Treasurer, for the time being, for the use of said Society.

DEVISE OF REAL ESTATE.

I give and devise unto the Old Man's Home, of Philadelphia (here describe the property or ground-rent), together with the appurtenances, in fee simple.

REPORT.

IN such seasons of wide-spread financial embarrassment as business men have been contending with for many months past, when private fortunes have been swept away and pecuniary disaster and distress have prevailed among all classes, not only in our own community, but throughout the length and breadth of the land, institutions like the "Old Man's Home" assume an importance not ascribed to them in prosperous times, and they are naturally recognized as deserving special regard and liberal encouragement. No man, however great his wealth, can foresee what the future has in store for him, and we need not go beyond the limit of our own city for conspicuous examples of persons who, while supposed to be almost beyond the reach of adversity, were suddenly reduced to poverty.

It is true that but few, if any, individuals in their prosperous days contemplate the possibility that they may ever become pensioners on public or private charity. Probably a majority of the respectable inmates of the "Home" would, at one period of their lives, have indignantly resented such a suggestion as an aspersion on their ability to support themselves. Youth is ever hopeful of a brilliant future, and middle age, though somewhat less sanguine, is still confident of attaining, by persevering industry and integrity, at least a moderate competency. It is only as Time advances with "remorseless tread," bringing the man almost to the close of a wearisome and unsuccessful struggle with life, that, poor and friendless, homeless and alone, he finds consolation in the thought that God has put it into the hearts of some of his people to see that in his old age he shall not be wholly unprovided for. If an applicant is needy, has no means of gaining a livelihood, and is reputed to possess good character and habits, he is regarded as a suitable inmate, and will be admitted in his turn. The accommodations of the house are, however, comparatively limited. The number of persons now in the "Home" is only forty-two, and no more can be received until a very considerable increase of the endowment fund shall enable the Managers to have the third floor of the building partitioned into sleeping-rooms, and justify them in increasing their expenses by enlarging the family. That there is an urgent necessity for this, is manifested by the long list of waiting applicants possessing every requisite for admission, and whose suffering condition appeals very strongly to our sympathy.

Vacancies never occur here except by death or in consequence of flagrant violation of the rules. The sanitary condition of the "Home" is excellent. In a family of old men, none of whom are under seventy years of age, and many of them nearly ninety, the number of deaths rarely exceeds four in one year. Some just complaints having been made that the house was not warm enough to keep the old folks comfortable, an additional furnace has been put in and the results are very satisfactory. It is hoped that the Managers may be enabled before very long to introduce a steam-heating apparatus, which is the only effectual method of warming so large a building; but it is altogether too costly an undertaking for their present means.

During the Centennial Exposition the "Home" was visited by a large number of strangers, who generally expressed warm admiration of the appropriateness of the building for its uses, and the evidences afforded in every part of the careful supervision of those placed in charge of it. It may not be amiss to mention here, in commendation of that regard for a judicious economy which usually characterizes the direction of institutions managed by women, that a comparison of the cost of maintaining each inmate in the "Boston Home for Aged Men," managed exclusively by men, shows that their outlay is very nearly twice as much as ours.

Whether they live more agreeably in any way is very doubtful, and it is hardly worth while to inquire if such is the case or not, as the wholesome and well-prepared food and other comforts provided here have afforded general satisfaction.

Through the kindness of a steadfast friend of the old gentlemen, who is always watchful of an opportunity to contribute to their happiness, such of them as had the strength to go, were taken several times to the Centennial Exposition. On one occasion Mr. John S. Morton, president of the Market Street Railway Company, assigned a special car for their use, which was sent to the very gate of the "Home," on Baring street. Those who were able to walk, went more frequently, and the rare and beautiful things they beheld there were subjects of thought and conversation for many months.

For the last two seasons the guests at the "Bryn Mawr Hotel" have held social entertainments there for the benefit of the "Old Man's Home." These were not only eminently enjoyable to those who were present, but the result was a very welcome addition of over $400 to the treasury of the institution. The Managers have great pleasure in returning thanks to these kind friends, who so cheerfully dedicated their time and talents to this object.

It is a subject of profound gratitude to Divine Providence, that, while great vicissitudes of fortune have overwhelmed many households in the course of the past year, rendering the blessed Christmas season a time for sorrowful retrospection, and apprehension for the clouded and unpromising future, the "Old Man's Home" has not suffered to any serious extent. If its list of subscribers has diminished somewhat, God has supplied the loss by new friends, and has awakened the sympathy of many hearts for the old and feeble men under our charge. The executors of the late Jesse George have kindly added a gift of a bond and mortgage worth $3,200 to the amounts previously assigned to us in their disposition of the residuary estate.

An interesting observance at the "Home" of the last Fourth of July proved that the spirit of patriotism which pervaded the nation during the year 1876 was not extinct in the hearts even of these aged men. They had resolved to contribute in some degree to the general enthusiasm of the occasion. Among them are several survivors of the war of 1812, who, with a number of others, collected a sufficient sum to purchase a very large flagstaff and an elegant flag. The raising of this flag drew together a large company of interested visitors, and the Mantua Cornet Band, having kindly volunteered their services, enlivened the scene by playing appropriate patriotic airs.

The Managers gratefully acknowledge the kindness of the clergymen of various Protestant denominations who have held regular services at the "Home" on Sunday and Thursday afternoons. One among these, the Rev. S. S. White, whose faithful ministrations at the "Home" will always be gratefully remembered, has gone beyond the reach of our thanks and praises, to the arms of that Redeemer whose atoning sacrifice he preached so earnestly. He was ever ready to respond to the frequent calls made upon him to visit the sick and the dying, and we humbly trust and believe that through his prayers and exhortations more than one has been led to the Saviour.

They would express their indebtedness also to their prompt and skillful physician, Dr. Musser, and it is only fair to add, that to the faithful and intelligent nursing of our very efficient Matron, Mrs. S. B. Scanlan, and her son, are due much of the comfort and well-being of the sick.

The number of inmates at this time is forty-two, and the family, including all assistants, amounts to fifty-one persons.

There have been eight admissions and four deaths.

The current expenses of the "Home" are met almost entirely by voluntary contributions. These have not hitherto been sufficient for them, and it is therefore evident that we have no surplus to invest in clothing. Some of the inmates have small pensions, and others are supplied by their friends; but these are exceptional cases. The Managers will be very grateful for donations of all kinds, but comfortable clothing is especially needed, the stock on hand being almost exhausted.

The conditions of admission are, for applicants of the age of seventy and upwards, $150; for persons between sixty-five and seventy, $250; and for those under sixty-five, $500. No one will be received who is less than sixty years old.

Applications should be written, and accompanied by at least three references, and may be sent to either member of the Committee on Applications.

The house is open daily (Sunday excepted) to visitors, and the Matron will be happy to receive persons who are interested in it.

By order of the Board.

MRS. FRED'K W. GRAYSON,
Secretary.

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I give and bequeath to the Old Man's Home, of Philadelphia, the sum of
to be paid to the Treasurer, for the time being, for the use of said society.

DEVISE OF REAL ESTATE.

I give and devise unto the Old Man's Home, of Philadelphia (here describe the property or ground-rent), together with the appurtenances, in fee simple.

REPORT.

“Blessed is he that considereth the poor, the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble.”—Ps. xli. 10.

The Managers of the “Old Man’s Home” have never had greater reason than in the past year for gratitude to the Giver of every good gift, whose loving kindness has been manifested in ways innumerable, not only in the last twelvemonth, but during all the period that the “Home” has been in existence. It is true that, like all laborers in similar fields of benevolent work, they have had hours of depression, perhaps discouragement, but they were infrequent and of short duration. The simple statement in their reports, or through the press, of the objects of the “Home,” and of the importance to the community that such a shelter for the aged should be firmly established, as well as the strong claims it has, no less upon the substantial assistance than upon the sympathies of the public, have always met with a generous response, sometimes in the form of legacies, and often in gifts from altogether unlooked-for quarters.

It may not be amiss to allude specially to two of these donations, made recently, of which one, of $2000, came from an “unknown friend,” who appropriated this sum to this object in accordance with the unwritten but well-understood wishes of a deceased relative, and the other, of equal amount, from a young man, who, among his many charities, remembered the aged poor even in hours of keen suffering and impending death.

Tokens of regard for the old from the young are peculiarly touching. We believe, however, that few persons of any age can turn aside from the busy scene of the city's crowded thoroughfares, to enter one of these quiet retreats for old people, without a sense of relief and a feeling of thankfulness that here, at last, the strife and turmoil of active life are forever over. These old folks, having been vanquished in the battle, have laid down their arms and now repose in an atmosphere of undisturbed serenity, surrounded with the comfortable realities of warmth and food, and cheered by the ready sympathy of friends and associates.

The Managers endeavor to insure harmony in the household, as far as possible, by admitting only such candidates as come well recommended for good temper and peaceful dispositions; and they try to prevent the occasional discord inevitable in most large families by impressing upon the inmates the propriety of avoiding discussion on all exciting subjects.

The Home, as is well known, is Protestant, but not otherwise sectarian, and the services on the Sabbath and through the week are conducted by clergymen of various denominations, who cheerfully minister there, especially to the great spiritual advantage of those who are too feeble to go to church, though the entire family is present, besides a large number of visitors and persons interested in the Home and its inmates. We have good ground for the belief that many of the inmates have been brought to Christ through the ministry of these faithful men and the religious tone that pervades the household. Some of them have felt and acknowledged that the necessity which compelled them unwillingly to accept the benefits of the institution was unquestionably a blessing in disguise.

The health of the family has been remarkably good, and the deaths which have taken place were due to disorders incident to old age.

The Managers and many other friends will not soon cease to regret the loss of one of these, whose life, for several years, has been a constant attestation of the transforming power of the love of Christ. His gentleness, humility, forbearance, and cheerful resignation to his change of fortune were remarkable, for he had been many years in the service of the United States, and had, of course, occupied an excellent social position. But no murmur ever escaped his lips. It seemed to be his pleasure, as he felt it to be his duty, not only to conform to the rules of the house, but to show his grateful appreciation of the relief it had afforded him when he was in urgent need of help, by manifesting an unvarying urbanity of demeanor toward all with whom he came in contact.

The external surroundings of the Home have been greatly embellished since our last annual report, by the substitution of a substantial and handsome iron railing in place of the decayed and broken wooden one that so long disfigured them. The award obtained from the city, through the efforts of Mr. Charles F. Keyser, for damages incurred by the widening of Powelton avenue, was about sufficient to defray the cost of the improved enclosure, and to pay some bills still due for paving. The ladies return their thanks to the several members of the Board of Council, who kindly relieved them from all care in the matter, and who made a selection so entirely satisfactory.

The general depression of business, now of so many years' duration, has naturally increased the number of applicants, of a respectable class, for admission, while, unfortunately, it has compelled some of our former contributors to withhold their accustomed aid. We have not yet been able to partition the third floor of the building into separate rooms, which change, if effected, would accommodate from forty to fifty additional persons. We are thus reduced to the very painful necessity of turning from our doors deserving men who have absolutely no other refuge but the almshouse. The expense of finishing the third-story rooms would be several thousand dollars, but only when they are completed and occupied will the building fully answer the purpose of its construction.

Among the pleasant memories of the past year, are two concerts given in the library of the Home by the Hutchinson family, which were greatly enjoyed by the old gentlemen and a numerous audience besides. The Managers were enabled to secure the service of this family through the kindness of the friend who gives a certain sum annually for purposes of amusement and recreation. We must also mention the occasional visits of an excellent vocal quartette, who gave some delightful music. While we desire to thank them for thus exercising their talents so benevolently, we are quite sure that the gratified faces they saw before them must have amply compensated them for their unselfish performance.

Mr. John Baird procured the inmates the pleasure of a visit to the Zoological Garden, by sending thirty tickets for their use.

The Managers return their thanks to the clergymen who have officiated at the Home on the Sabbath and during the week, as well as at the bedside of the sick and dying and at funerals; and also to Dr. Musser, for prompt and skillful attention to his professional duties there.

Mrs. S. B. Scanlan, the Matron, and Mr. Baker Scanlan, continue to merit the commendation of both the Managers and the family.

Mr. Mattheissen, of Jersey City, has testified his continued interest in the institution most substantially, having for many years furnished its storeroom with three barrels of white sugar annually.

The number of inmates at this time is forty-three, and the family, including all assistants, amounts to fifty-one.

There have been six admissions and five deaths.

The current expenses of the Home are met almost entirely by voluntary contributions. These have not hitherto been sufficient, and it is therefore evident that we have no surplus to invest in clothing. Some of the inmates can clothe themselves, and others are supplied by their friends; but these are exceptional cases. The Managers will be very grateful for donations of all kinds, but comfortable clothing is especially needed.

The conditions of admission are, for applicants of the age of seventy and upwards, $150; for persons between sixty-five and seventy, $250; and for those under sixty-five, $500. No one will be received who is less than sixty years old.

Applications should be written, and accompanied by at least three references, and may be sent to either member of the Committee on Applications.

The house is open daily (Sunday excepted) to visitors, and the Matron will be happy to receive persons who are interested in it.

By order of the Board.

MRS. FRED'K W. GRAYSON,
Secretary.

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I give and bequeath to the Old Man's Home, of Philadelphia, the sum of
to be paid to the Treasurer, for the time being, for the use of said society.

DEVISE OF REAL ESTATE.

I give and devise unto the Old Man's Home, of Philadelphia (here describe the property or ground-rent), together with the appurtenances, in fee simple.

REPORT.

“Blessed is he that considereth the poor, the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble.”—Ps. xli. 10.

GRATEFUL to God for his continued protection and encouragement in the work we have undertaken, we present the following fourteenth annual report of the Old Man's Home.

When it is considered that during the last five years of unprecedented business depression, the institution, in spite of some diminution in its subscription list, has yet been enabled to maintain not only its usual number of inmates, but to increase them, we have cause for special thankfulness. In response to augmented demands upon us, resulting from the stringency of the times, the Managers have felt that it would be neither wise nor humane to delay longer the completion of the interior accommodations of the building. The organization, from its inception, has been so largely a work of faith that its past history permitted no doubt that, with the blessing of Divine Providence, we should be assisted in our effort to fulfill the design of its projectors. Many destitute, and altogether self-helpless, old men, who presented themselves with pathetic appeals for shelter from want and neglect, had been chilled with the answer of “No room.” But this reason for denying them the relief they so sorely needed did not satisfy our own hearts, since we believed that by a strenuous effort we might make room for a few at least of these urgent applicants, several of whom had been long awaiting their turn to come in, while enduring the heart-sickness that comes from deferred hope.

The welcome information received at the stated meeting in October, that three bequests to the Home, from Miss Linnard, Mr. Lewis D. Beck, and Mr. Thomas J. Yarnall had been made during the summer, determined our doubts and hesitation. A resolution was promptly adopted directing the proper committee to take immediate steps to have the third floor fitted up for occupancy, if possible, before the advent of cold weather.

The capable mechanics to whom the work was intrusted effected the alterations on very satisfactory terms and with commendable expedition. The enlargement consists of eight spacious and two small rooms, with bath-room, stationary wash-stands, and other proper conveniences, including an elevator, to render it almost as desirable for occupation as any other part of the house. Besides this addition to its capacity, certain repairs have been made, some of them required in consequence of damages caused by the great storm in October last. The heretofore frequently-recurring trouble with the drainage has not for some months been a source of annoyance and expense, and the change gives reasonable ground for hope that the defects of the system originally adopted have been in great part, if not altogether, remedied.

Although our annual reports are mainly issued for the purpose of satisfying our contributors that the funds intrusted to us have been used with all the economy that is consistent with the actual necessities of the Home, yet we trust it will not be considered irrelevant if we frankly lay before them our great need for still another improvement, and try to elicit their sympathy and their help in our effort to effect it. The want referred to is a steam-heating apparatus, which is the best method yet invented for heating large buildings equably and adequately.

The four capacious furnaces now used consume enormous quantities of coal, but fail to warm the extensive space they are required to supply. The heat is so unequally distributed that while in the reading-room, for instance, the temperature often rises to eighty degrees, the corridors and sleeping-rooms are too cold for the old gentlemen to remain in them more than a few minutes at a time.

It may be said that there is no necessity for them to do so, as the library is large enough for all, and perhaps, as regards many of them, this is true. But we believe that when we offer a home to an old gentleman we mean, or ought to mean, that while he may resort to the library for social or intellectual amusement, he should also enjoy protection from physical suffering in his own chamber.

In so large a family as ours is, and even though each member of it is presumed to be worthy of respect, there must necessarily be great diversities of temper, habits, and tastes. Some find their happiness in close and constant association with chosen intimates, whilst others covet nothing so earnestly as a comfortable, cheerful room, where they can enjoy their books or their thoughts in privacy. It is to insure to all this inestimable choice that we would have each chamber comfortably warmed.

Probably the only Home in this country which, so far, fully merits that precious and comprehensive title, is the "Louise Home," in Washington, built and endowed by the munificent liberality of Mr. Corcoran, and it is so, chiefly, for the reason that every lady there can live in the utmost retirement, if she prefers to do so. Defects in the rules and domestic management of large institutions become apparent only after protracted experience, and it should be the aim of an intelligent Board to see that their wards have every reasonable comfort, particularly those whose great age and feebleness deprive them of almost all other earthly enjoyments. The impossibility of making everybody happy under a necessarily uniform regime will be easily understood by all who have experienced the futility of such efforts; but it is a well-recognized truth, that those whose lives have been only a series of trials and privations, have but little appreciation of the comforts provided for them, while the decayed gentleman is uncomplaining and endures, with Christian forbearance, inevitable annoyances which are incident to all large families, however and wherever collected.

Happily for the Managers of this Home, a thankful and contented spirit prevails almost universally within its borders, the only just ground for dissatisfaction being the imperfect heating of the building. We hope our friends will agree with us in thinking that a change in this respect would not only increase the bodily comfort, but promote the mental and moral well-being of the old men. The proposed measure would involve a greater outlay of money than we, in the present state of our finances and with the augmented drain upon them, can contemplate; but as previous appeals for assistance in like emergencies have met with prompt and hearty response, we simply lay the subject before our well-wishers, in full faith that ere long they will enable us to accomplish our object.

The past year's history of the family has been singularly barren of incidents that would interest the public. The monotony of life at the Home, however, was varied by several pleasant entertainments. Professor S. K. Murdock most cheerfully consented to devote an evening to that purpose. His pre-eminent ability as an elocutionist is so widely known that our praise would be superfluous, but we are sure that while he gave his services gratuitously, he must have been in some degree compensated by the evident enjoyment of a most appreciative and responsive audience. The Rev. William L. Bull also delivered at the Home a very interesting and graphic account of a recent tour through the Holy Land—a subject always acceptable and profitable.

An amateur concert was given in the spring, which was very successful. Its proceeds were used for the purchase of a piano, which will save the expense of hiring an instrument for future concerts.

The general health has been excellent, considering that the youngest man in the house is sixty-seven and the oldest ninety-nine. The Sabbath afternoon services have been conducted with regularity and acceptance by ministers of different denominations, to whom we tender our thanks. The congregation of fifty gray-haired venerable men was usually enlarged by a numerous attendance of Managers and interested visitors. A Tuesday evening Bible study has been established, which is eagerly anticipated by the old gentlemen, and gives promise of being blessed with the happiest results.

Our excellent physician, Dr. M. B. Musser, continues to visit and prescribe for the sick, with a sympathy and tact that have greatly endeared him to his patients.

There have been fifteen admissions to the Home, seven deaths, one dismissal, and the transfer of one old gentleman to the State Asylum for the Insane at Harrisburg.

The family, including all assistants, numbers fifty-eight. Fifty of these are beneficiaries, and the list will be increased as rapidly as we find that our income will admit of it.

Mrs. Scanlan, the efficient matron, and Mr. Baker Scanlan, continue to give satisfaction in their respective offices.

The current expenses of the Home are met almost entirely by voluntary contributions. These have not hitherto been sufficient, and it is therefore evident that we have no surplus to invest in clothing. Some of the inmates can clothe themselves, and others are supplied by their friends; but the latter are exceptional cases. The Managers will be very grateful for donations of all kinds, but comfortable clothing is especially needed.

The conditions of admission are, for applicants of the age of seventy and upwards, $150; for persons between sixty-five and seventy, $250; and for those under sixty-five, $500. No one will be received who is less than sixty years old.

Applications should be written, and accompanied by at least three references, and may be sent to either member of the Committee on Applications.

The house is open daily (Sunday excepted) to visitors, and the Matron will be happy to receive persons who are interested in it.

By order of the Board.

MRS. FRED'K W. GRAYSON,

Secretary.

REPORT.

“Blessed is he that considereth the poor, the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble.”—Ps. xli. 10.

When our last Annual Report was issued the number of beneficiaries under our charge was fifty. We have now fifty-four; an increase by no means commensurate with the enlarged capacity of the building, but one which is limited by our present inability to provide for a more numerous family. When, in the beginning of this year, the additional chambers on the third floor were completed, we were at a loss to know how we could procure the means to furnish them comfortably. All anxiety on this subject was almost immediately relieved by a generous friend of the Home, Mr. Caleb Milne, whose observant eye, as he walked over the house, detected the deficiency at a glance. He promptly gave the Committee permission to furnish the rooms at his expense and they are now fully occupied. With a view to the greater comfort of the family, some changes have recently been made in the arrangements of the apartments on the first floor. A large one, well warmed and lighted, is now devoted exclusively to those who desire to read or write, and no conversation is permitted to disturb the prevailing quiet. In the wide halls and spacious Library are assembled the social, chatty members of the family, and the tables, where some engage in harmless games of chequers, dominoes, etc., which help them to while away the tedious hours, are usually surrounded by interested spectators. Time naturally drags rather wearily along with men who have suddenly dropped the active pursuits of a life time, who are now too feeble for further exertion, and some of whom are too nearly blind to read or too deaf to enjoy conversation. They have not that unfailing resource in the needle which enables even very old women to employ themselves both usefully and agreeably, and they therefore appreciate very gratefully the wise and kindly solicitude shown for their happiness by that friend who has for several years past supplied one of the Managers with a specific sum to be used only for "Amusements." Understanding the donor to mean not only that the old gentlemen should be at liberty to indulge in innocent games at his expense, but that they may have occasionally, rides in the Park, visits to the Zoological Garden, and Concerts and Lectures at the Home, this particular fund really contributes, in no small degree, to the cheerful, contented, and home-like temper of the family.

Mr. John Ruddy, the first person received into the Institution, died there in May last, after a residence of about fifteen years, during which long period he was not only uncomplaining, but he delighted at all times to express his gratitude for the comforts and kindness which he had enjoyed. When he came to us he had been for several years totally blind. His other faculties, however, seemed to have become brighter since his misfortune. His memory was almost phenomenal. If a discussion arose as to the date of the admission of any one of the many inmates, or of a death, the ministry at each funeral, and the innumerable little incidents of daily occurrence around him, an appeal to Mr. Ruddy decided the question. He took great delight in correcting the mistakes of persons of less accurate and retentive recollection, but his kindly nature usually kept him from giving offence. In his youth he had been, he said, a great singer, and often in his old age—for he died in his eighty-first year—when his heart was merry, he would sing psalms and hymns, in tremulous tones, but with reverent heart, all unconscious of the listeners, whose sympathies were touched by the pathetic picture of this sightless old man, as he raised his voice to praise the Lord. Sometimes he would recall the farm-ballads of his boyhood, the quaint simplicity of which amused hearers to whom the folk-songs of the Merrie England of that day were quite unfamiliar.

Among the other losses of the Home by death, was that of a grand nephew of Benjamin West, who had been there many years. He was a man of considerable intelligence, and was very proud of his relationship to the distinguished painter. After being paralyzed and helpless for over three years, during which period he showed exemplary patience, death came to him very gently at last, and found him, we trust, confident in the saving power of Christ's atoning blood.

We have also to lament a vacancy in our Advisory Board, made by the death, in March last, of Mr. J. P. Steiner, whose warm interest in the affairs of the Home, and whose intelligent and practical co-operation in all schemes for its improvement, are greatly missed.

The Managers have to report a change in the office of Treasurer. This position has been held by Miss P. A. Attwood since the incorporation of the Home, with which she was connected, even from an earlier date, as one of the three young ladies through whose efforts the idea of such an institution was first presented to the public. After sixteen years tenure of the trust, during which period she has given it a large share of her time and attention, Miss Attwood feels that she may transfer the duties to other hands, and as her reasons for resigning are peremptory with her, the Board can only accept the resignation, with thanks for the long continued service she has rendered in the very responsible office from which she retires.

The hope of the Managers expressed a year ago, that by this time the Home would have means to warm it throughout and thoroughly by a steam heating apparatus, has not been realized. This improvement would probably cost about $3000, which is a greater expenditure than we can afford at present. If the Home had received all or nearly all of the legacies that have been announced in the papers, the Managers would be amply able to afford many desirable improvements. But this, unfortunately, is not the case. On the contrary, they labor under the disadvantage of reputed competence, without possessing the reality. Indeed, so injurious to their interests had this impression become, that contributions for current expenses were seriously reduced, and at the Monthly Meeting in October last, the startling statement was made by the Treasurer, that there were only sufficient funds in bank to defray current expenses for two months. In this emergency the Managers, who were extremely reluctant to encroach upon their Permanent Fund, which amounts to but little over $30,000, resolved that it was imperatively necessary to make a strenuous effort in some way to bring their work to the notice of the public, and elicit its sympathy and assistance. For this purpose, and for the first time in the history of the Home, a Donation Day (Nov. 6th,) was appointed, and it was hoped that published appeals for contributions of all kinds would be abundantly answered, and that they would also benefit the Home indirectly, by bringing it to the notice of many who were previously hardly aware of its existence. Owing, no doubt, to very unpropitious weather, the results were not entirely satisfactory; yet they were sufficient to justify the conviction that the effort was not made in vain. Many encouraging donations in money, provisions, warm clothing, and other like contributions, were very thankfully received. In the evening a supper was provided, and a Concert and Literary Entertainment were kindly and gratuitously given by the Arion Association to quite a numerous audience.

On Thanksgiving Day an abundant dinner was provided for the family of sixty-four persons, by Mrs. S. Stockton Horner, to whom the Managers beg to tender their warmest acknowledgments.

For Christmas, also, donations of turkeys, etc., were thankfully received and greatly enjoyed. At the Tuesday Evening Bible Studies, which have become a source of both interest and spiritual improvement, members of all denominations eagerly meet together, and the attendance has so increased that it now embraces almost the entire household, who enter into the services with great earnestness. By this instrumentality many hearts, we trust, will be brought to Christ.

The Sabbath afternoon services are conducted by ministers of various churches, to whom the thanks of both Managers and inmates are gratefully offered.

Dr. M. B. Musser continues in charge of the sick, who are eloquent in their expressions of gratitude for his skill and sympathy, and we may add, that his efforts in behalf of his patients are ably seconded by Mr. Baker Scanlan, whose best feelings are aroused at the sight of suffering, and whose patience with and devotion to the sick are inexhaustible. For Mrs. S. B. Scanlan, Matron of the Home, we have only commendation, and are satisfied that to her excellent housekeeping and well furnished table, is to be attributed, in a large measure, the usually excellent health of the old gentlemen.

In reflecting upon the history of the Home during the past year, we cannot but feel that it is becoming more and more firmly established in the good will of the community. No frowning Providence has ever chilled our steady and hopeful devotion to this work, and in witnessing the marvellous contrast between the Old Man's Home of to-day and that of 1864, none can doubt that hitherto God hath been our unfailing guide and support, and that to Him, whose gracious goodness has blessed our labors, is due all the praise of the success thus far achieved.

There have been thirteen admissions to the Home, seven deaths, one dismissal, and the transfer of one old gentleman to the State Asylum for the Insane at Harrisburg.

The family, including all assistants, numbers sixty-four. Fifty-four of these are beneficiaries, and the list will be increased as rapidly as we find that our income will admit of it.

The current expenses of the Home are met almost entirely by voluntary contributions. These have not hitherto been sufficient, and it is therefore evident that we have no surplus to invest in clothing. Some of the inmates can clothe themselves, and others are supplied by their friends; but the latter are exceptional cases. The Managers will be very grateful for donations of all kinds, but comfortable clothing is especially needed.

The conditions of admission are, for applicants of the age of seventy and upwards, $150; for persons between sixty-five and seventy, $250; and for those under sixty-five, $500. No one will be received who is less than sixty years old.

We decline to receive any who are scoffers or unbelievers. This is due to the Christian character of the "Home," and to the peace of the family.

Applications should be written and accompanied by at least three references, and may be sent to either member of the Committee on Applications.

The house is open daily (Sunday excepted) to visitors, and the Matron will be happy to receive persons who are interested in it.

By order of the Board,

MRS. FRED'K W. GRAYSON,
Secretary.

REPORT.

“Blessed is he that considereth the poor, the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble,—Ps. xli. 10.

Each year as it passes rapidly away leaves with the Managers of the Old Man's Home abundant cause for gratitude to that all-merciful God who has not withheld his countenance from us in times of discouragement, but has ever bestowed with a father's loving hand rich blessings upon our labors.

The progress made by the Institution in the esteem of our citizens, and the confidence reposed by them in the wisdom and efficiency of its management, are very precious to those who began their work amid the depressing conditions existing at the close of the civil war. They had then to struggle in behalf of a cause which did not at that time particularly enlist the sympathies of the benevolent, though they now warmly commend and generously contribute to its support. The story of its rapid growth in prosperity has been told in previous Reports, and when our present commodious building was completed and paid for, the Managers felt that their labors would, in a measure, at least, be lightened, while they might rejoice in the possession of a Home which left little to be desired in capacity and appointments for the comfort and happiness of the inmates. But experience in the direction of an establishment of this kind can alone thoroughly test its capacity to fulfil perfectly the reasonable requirements for which it was instituted, and it has become evident that an addition to the present building should be made without delay. Here, as elsewhere, extreme old age often brings with it not only physical ailments, but mental weakness also. Occasionally cases of mania have been developed, which rendered the patients dangerous both to themselves and others.

Of course, such persons must be removed to a suitable asylum, as we have no means of restraining them or securing them adequate attention. We have thus far been compelled to remove but four persons for this cause since the organization of the Home. But instances of the gradual approach of a sort of mild imbecility are of more frequent occurrence; and though the persons afflicted in this way are quite harmless, their condition renders each one of them annoying to others, and indicates the propriety of providing him with separate quarters and special attendance.

There are also physical infirmities which would be ameliorated by a similar seclusion, and the Managers, having once undertaken the care of an old gentleman, are unwilling to consign him to other hands if it is possible to avoid it.

In view of these facts, and in accordance with the decided approval of Dr. Musser, the accomplished physician of the Home, the Managers design, when they shall have the means in hand, to erect an addition or annex to the main building, for the exclusive accommodation of persons who need special care and nursing. If the share in the residuary estate of the late Miss Shields, bequeathed by her to the Home, should equal in value the estimates made by persons who should know whereof they speak, this and other improvements can be effected without appealing to the public for assistance; but the Managers have not yet ascertained certainly either the amount coming to them or the time when they will receive it.

In October last one of the old gentlemen having been accidentally exposed to the contagion of small-pox, it was decided, after consultation with Dr. Musser, that it would be prudent to protect the family from the disease by vaccination; and we have to record our special thanks to the doctor, for his promptness in vaccinating nearly every member of a household of sixty-four persons.

During the year there have been nine admissions and six deaths; four of the latter being of men over eighty years of age. One had entered his ninety-first year, and had passed fifteen in the Home. Two had once been prosperous merchants, and they were models of exemplary conduct and Christian consideration for others. Two others died at the Norristown and Harrisburg Asylums for the Insane—whither we had been compelled to transfer them.

Among the pleasant incidents of the year was a Donation Day, held in October, which attracted numerous friends and some strangers, who testified their interest in the Home by liberal gifts and purchases of fancy and useful articles from the tables.

The pleasure of the several Anniversaries, moreover, was enhanced by substantial evidences of friendly sympathy. On the 4th of July and on Thanksgiving Day abundant repasts were supplied through the kindness of Mrs. S. Stockton Hornor, who left money and directions for its expenditure for that purpose, on the eve of her departure for Europe last summer.

On Christmas morning a box of bon-bons was placed at each plate. The dinner was provided by Mr. Wm. Bucknell, who added greatly to the enjoyment of the feast by coming himself to partake of it, accompanied by that faithful friend of the Home, the Rev. Mr. Walker. Not only were the tables covered with substantials, but a liberal supply of fruit and confectionery was placed on the tables in the hall, and as the walls were decorated with greens, and each old gentleman was adorned with a bright button-hole bouquet, the spacious dining-room and the assembled company wore quite a festive air. We are also indebted to the same charitable gentleman for having furnished completely a large room with all conveniences, for the accommodation of three persons.

Religious services are held every Sunday afternoon, chiefly for the benefit of those who are too infirm to attend church, and the Managers desire to thank very cordially the ministers of different denominations who have so cheerfully volunteered their services.

The ladies wish especially to express their appreciation of the courtesy extended to them on numerous occasions by gentlemen controlling the news columns of many of our city journals; notices having been cheerfully inserted in the Inquirer, Press, Telegraph, Bulletin, Ledger and North American, either gratuitously or at extremely moderate prices.

The Home now contains, including all assistants, sixty-five persons, of whom fifty-five are beneficiaries—the latter number soon to be increased to sixty. The excellent management of its domestic arrangements by the Matron—Mrs. S. B. Scanlan—and the devotion shown to the sick by her and her son—Mr. Baker Scanlan—are deserving of the warmest commendation.

The supply of clothing received during the year has been quite inadequate to the needs of those who depend entirely on the Home to meet their wants. Some of the old gentlemen have the means to clothe themselves, several being pensioners of the war of 1812, and others are liberally supplied by their friends, but these are in the minority, and we would be glad if gentlemen, who often discard serviceable clothing, would send it to the Old Man's Home, or if notified, the Matron would send to any address for it.

By order of the Board,

MRS. FRED'K W. GRAYSON,

Secretary.

AN ACT

TO INCORPORATE THE OLD MAN'S HOME.

WHEREAS, An Association denominated "THE OLD MAN'S HOME," has been formed for the purpose of affording relief and the comforts of a home to old men in indigent circumstances, the members of which desire to be incorporated: to enable them more effectually to accomplish their object: therefore:—

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the persons who are now or shall hereafter become members of said Association according to the By-Laws be, and the same are hereby created and erected into one body politic and corporate in deed and in law, by the name, style and title of "THE OLD MAN'S HOME OF PHILADELPHIA."

SEC. 2. That said Corporation by the same name, style and title shall have perpetual succession, and be able to sue and be sued, implead and be impleaded in all courts of law and elsewhere, to have and make a corporate seal, and again at pleasure to alter and renew the same, and shall be able and capable in law and equity to take, purchase, hold and receive to them and their successors, any lands, tenements, goods and chattels of whatever kind, nature or quality, real, mixed or personal, which are now or shall, or may at any time hereafter become the property of the said Corporation or body politic by purchase, gift, grant, bargain, sale, conveyance, devise, bequest or otherwise, from any person or persons whomsoever capable of making the same, and the same to grant, bargain, sell, improve, or dispose of for the use and benefit of the said Corporation.

SEC. 3. That no misnomer of said Corporation, or their associates or successors, shall defeat or annul any intended gift, grant, conveyance, devise or bequest thereto, nor any act or deed intended to be done or made thereby.

SEC. 4. The affairs of said Corporation shall be exclusively under the control of a Board of Managers not exceeding twenty-four in number, who shall be elected by the members of the Corporation at their annual meeting: said Managers to serve until their successors are appointed. The Board of Managers shall appoint the officers of this Corporation from its own body, and shall have power to fill vacancies occurring in the intervals of election, either from death, resignation, removal or inattention to the duties as Managers: to make By-Laws for its government and for the management of the Home, the safe keeping of the funds and other property of this Corporation, and their appropriation and use in accordance with the intent and purposes of this institution, and to attend to all other business of the said Corporation not herein provided for.

SEC. 5. That the affairs of said Corporation shall never be under the control of any sectarian influence.

SEC. 6. That the buildings and grounds used for "The Old Man's Home" shall, during the term of such occupancy, be exempt from taxation, except for State purposes.

RULES FOR THE REGULATION OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

1st. The Managers shall meet on the second Thursday of every month; 10½ A. M. Business shall commence precisely half an hour after the time appointed for meeting.

2d. Five of the Managers shall form a quorum for the transaction of all business.

3d. Every meeting shall be opened with reading a portion of Scripture by the Secretary, succeeded by a pause for mental supplication.

4th. No person shall be at liberty to withdraw from the Board without permission: and no conversation but such as relates to business, shall be allowed.

5th. Every motion, when made, shall be stated from the Chair: when seconded, the Directress shall invite discussion upon the subject: after which she shall ask if the members are ready for the question, which being assented to, the votes shall be taken first in the affirmative and next in the negative. No other business shall be taken up by the Board, or discussed by any of the members, until that which has thus been laid before them is decided or postponed.

6th. At the desire of any member of the Board, the decision of a new question may be deferred to the meeting succeeding that at which the question was proposed.

7th. No former resolution shall be reconsidered unless called for by one of the majority, and shall in all cases be deferred to the next meeting, either special or stated, for decision.

8th. Upon motion made and seconded, the names of the yeas and nays shall be recorded on the Minutes.

9th. The member first named on a committee shall preside over it, shall give notice of the time and place of meeting, and make report of their proceedings.

10th. The first Directress shall call extra meetings as often as she may think proper, but shall not be obliged to call them contrary to her own judgment, unless five members of the Board shall concur in requesting it.

11th. The seal of the Society shall not be affixed to any paper without the vote of the Board having been taken on it.

12th. The business of each stated meeting shall commence with the reading of the Minutes of the preceding meeting by the Secretary, afterwards the Treasurer's report and the reports of the committees, which, if not presented, must be asked for by the Directress. Then unfinished business: any new business: the weekly committees for the ensuing month shall be named, and the orders on the Treasurer voted.

13th. The Board shall not rise until the time and place of the next meeting be distinctly made known.

14th. At the first meeting of the Board, the standing committees shall be appointed, viz: The Weekly Committees of two, for the year, which shall be inserted by the Secretary in the Minute Book of the Committee; the Purchasing Committee, and the Committee for Receiving Applications for admission.

DUTIES OF THE MANAGERS.

The First Directress shall preside at the meetings of the Managers, preserve order, appoint committees, call special meetings, and in all equal divisions of the Board, give the casting vote. She shall furnish every new member with a book containing, in print, the Constitution, the Rules for the Regulation of the Board, the Duties of the Managers, and the Rules for the Government of the Home. When a Manager resigns her seat at the Board, she is to return this book to the First Directress, who will make it over to her successor.

The Second Directress shall preside in the absence of the First Directress, and attend to all the duties of the office. She shall hold the seal of the Corporation, and affix the same to any document when called upon so to do by the First Directress and the Secretary, or Treasurer.

The Secretary shall notify the Managers of the meetings of the Board, keep a fair and correct record of their proceedings; a register of the name, place of birth and age of the inmates of the Home, and do all other writing not otherwise provided for.

The Treasurer shall hold the evidences of property belonging to the Corporation, receive all moneys, and deposit the same in a bank—designated by the Board—in her name, as Treasurer; make no payments except by order of the Board of Managers, keep a fair account of all receipts and expenditures, which account shall at all times be open to the inspection of the Managers. She shall furnish a monthly abstract of her receipts and expenditures, and of the balance remaining in her hands, and prepare a statement to be laid before the Society at their annual meeting.

The Managers shall be divided into committees of two, who, in weekly rotation, shall superintend the Home, under the name of the “Visiting Committee.”

The Visiting Committee shall visit the Home not less than three times during their week, they shall endeavor to be present once at a meal, shall make themselves acquainted with the situation and wants of the inmates, generally direct the concerns of the family, and report their observations in a minute book, which book on the last day of their week, is to be sent to the succeeding committee, for which purpose a list of the Visiting Committees is to be kept in the book.

The Purchasing Committee shall make all purchases necessary for the family, pay all bills, and present a monthly account of their proceedings to the Board.

The Committee for Receiving Applications.—It shall be the duty of this committee to visit the applicants, and inquire into their character and circumstances, and make their report thereon to the Board in writing. It shall also be the duty of this committee to keep a register of the names of the applicants, the persons by whom they are recommended, and their place of residence. (It will be likewise required that the Treasurer keep a book, in which the terms of agreement entered into between the committee and the friends of the applicants, be inserted, with their signatures annexed. No person will be admitted into the Home without an order from the Treasurer.)

Church Committee.—A committee shall be appointed to see that the Home is duly supplied with the preaching of the Gospel, and have a general superintendence of this important concern. Any minister properly authorized as a preacher of the Gospel by any evangelical denomination of Christians, shall be cordially received, and none other will be admitted. The whole duty of supplying the Home with the preaching of the Gospel to devolve on this committee, which they will be expected carefully and conscientiously to discharge; and the other members of the Board of Managers will be required to communicate with this committee and obtain their consent previous to introducing any one into the Home as a religious instructor. The committee shall make such regulations as may appear to them proper and regular, with respect to prayer meetings or any other religious meetings, from time to time. The committee shall give verbal instructions to the Matron how to act in relation to this subject in the absence of the committee.

Each Manager will be furnished by the Treasurer with a list of subscribers, whose contributions she will be expected annually to collect.

Any Manager absenting herself from three consecutive stated meetings of the Board without sufficient cause, will be considered as having resigned.

The duties of the Managers appear to be generally comprised in the foregoing rules, in addition to which it shall be considered the duty of the Visiting Committees at the Home, during their stated periods of attendance, not only to inquire into the temporal welfare of its inmates, but to visit them in their several rooms and endeavor to ascertain their spiritual state, giving them such advice and instruction as may be in their power and the circumstances of the case may render necessary.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

1st. No person shall be admitted into the Home without satisfactory testimonials to the propriety of their conduct and the respectability of their character.

2nd. When they are pensioners on any benevolent institution or society, it is expected that their pensions will be continued to assist in their support, and that their funeral expenses will be defrayed.

3rd. Those who have any property are required to secure the same to the Home before they are admitted. In case of their obtaining property after their admission, if they remain in the Home, it will be necessary to make it over to the institution.

4th. If the mental condition of an inmate shall become so unsound as to endanger his own and the safety of the family, and thereby render the care of a special attendant necessary, it is required that his relatives will either remove him or refrain from interference with the Managers when, in the opinion of two reputable physicians, it is found expedient to place him under the restraints of a suitable asylum.

5th. Furniture and property brought into the Home are to remain for the benefit of the institution.

6th. All persons admitted into the Home must be at least sixty years of age. At sixty the admission fee is $500, between sixty-five and seventy, $250, over seventy, $150.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF THE OLD MAN'S HOME.

1st. The Superintendent shall have entire charge of the house and keep it in order, under the directions of the Managers and Visiting Committee. She is to enforce the rules of the house, to be present at meals, see that they are properly served up, that everything is on the table before the family sit down, that suitable nourishment is provided for the sick, proper order is observed at table, and a blessing asked on each meal. She must be respectful and kind to every one in the house, and attentive as their circumstances may require: never let partiality be shown in any instance, but maintain the respect due to her station. If improper conduct is observed in any member of the family, she is to inform the Visiting Committee. A list should be made of whatever supplies are necessary, and given to the Purchasing Committee. It is also expected that the Matron will keep a memorandum of every article that is sent to the house, whether purchases or donations, and by whom sent.

2d. Morning and evening prayers to be regularly performed at the Home. Every inmate will be expected punctually to attend, except in case of sickness. Notice to be given by ringing the bell.

3rd. It will be required that those who are capable render service for the benefit of the Home.

4th. All that is necessary for the comfortable support of the inmates of the Home will be furnished from the funds of the Society. No individual therefore, will, on any account, be permitted to leave the institution to solicit assistance.

5th. All who are able will attend at the general table. If any of the family are sick, a suitable meal will be provided and sent to their rooms.

6th. If any inmate of the Home feels disposed to visit his friends, he is requested to mention to the Matron where he intends staying, and the probable length of his visit, that no uneasiness may exist on his account; and that, in case of sickness or accident, the Managers may know where he is to be found.

7th. No stimulants or spirituous liquors to be used in the Home, except by order of the physician; and in that case, to be administered by the Matron.

8th. No inmate will be permitted to interfere or find fault with the Matron or assistant; but if they think they have cause of complaint, they must apply to the Managers, who will receive their statement and take such order thereon as they may think proper.

9th. It is required that all visitors be treated with respect and attention, and conducted through any part of the building they may be disposed to visit. Particular attention to be paid to ministers of the Gospel, and those whose visits are made for religious purposes. No inmate of the Home will be permitted to introduce any preacher of the Gospel or invite their friends to give religious instruction, without the consent of the Church Committee.

10th. To preserve perfect harmony in the family, the strictest attention must be paid to the rules of the Home.

For the first and second violation, there will be an admonition; for a third, a complaint will be preferred to the Board; for a fourth, a removal from the Home.

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I give and bequeath unto “The Old Man’s Home,” of the City of Philadelphia, the sum of _____ to be paid to the Treasurer for the time being, for the use of the said Society.

Devise of Real Estate.

I give and devise unto “The Old Man’s Home,” of the City of Philadelphia,

REPORT.

“Blessed is he that considereth the poor, the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble.—Ps. xli. 10.

The Managers of the Old Man's Home herewith submit this their Seventeenth Annual Report to their subscribers and the public.

At the close of the year 1880 the Home contained fifty-five beneficiaries. That number has been increased to sixty, which, with Matron and Assistants, makes a family of seventy persons.

The supply of water in the building had long been inadequate to the wants of the inmates, and as the past year brought a larger demand for it, it was found that the occupants of the third floor were often deprived entirely of this requisite for health and cleanliness.

After consultation with persons of experience in such matters, the Managers decided to place a tank capable of containing twelve hundred gallons, in a room on the third story, which was duly strengthened so as to enable it to sustain this additional weight. In connection with the tank are fifty feet of hose on each floor, so arranged and so easily managed that it could, in case of fire, be brought into immediate service by the attendants, who have been thoroughly instructed in the method of using it. For a time it was believed that there would be no further inconvenience from this source, but the seat of the difficulty had not in fact yet been reached, and upon more thorough investigation it was found that the supply-pipe connecting the Home with the main on Powelton Avenue was only of one inch diameter, instead of three, the size usually required for an institution like this. An adequate pipe was therefore laid; the tank is now filled without difficulty, and one of the most vexatious causes of complaint and discomfort has been, we trust, permanently removed. The Managers have endeavored to ensure, as far as possible, the protection of the Home against fire by the means already adopted, and by the employment more recently of a night watchman. They are now only awaiting the decision of the authorities as to the best fire-escape, in order to have one placed on the outside of the house, though it is probable that but few of the old gentlemen would have either the presence of mind or the physical strength to use it.

The domestic life of the Home has been unusually uneventful, and although the number of deaths recorded is somewhat in excess of that in preceding years, the increase is due to no more fatal cause than the infirmities incident to extreme old age. None of the deceased were less than seventy-four, several were over eighty, and one had reached the age of ninety-two. The general health of the family has been exceptionally good.

The urgent need of an Annex to the Home, for the seclusion and better care of those whose imbecility renders them dangerous to themselves, and, for obvious reasons, repugnant to others, has again been repeatedly impressed upon the Managers, who have been compelled to remove to Asylums for the insane, men who, though actually suffering from dementia, might have been cared for in the Home if we had had the means to isolate them from others, whose lives were made a perpetual martyrdom by the very natural apprehension that what was then merely the feebleness of dotage, might at any moment assume the more dangerous form of violent insanity. We are all familiar with the incessant watchfulness required by old people, who have become "childish," as it is called; and it is easy to understand how this need is increased in a building where such a patient may endanger the lives of seventy persons, by some act of folly for which he is not to be held responsible. It is proper to add, that no inmate is ever sent from the Home to institutions specially provided for persons afflicted with mental disease, until he has from that cause become quite unmanageable in consequence of our defective means for the proper care of such patients.

In June last the Home lost one of the most valuable members of the Advisory Board, by the death of Mr. Henry Cartwright. At the first full meeting after its occurrence the following resolution was adopted :

Resolved, That the Board of Managers of the Old Man's Home have heard, with sincere sorrow, of the death of Mr. Henry Cartwright. The loss of his earnest zeal and mature business intelligence, as a member of their Advisory Board, is keenly regretted by them; and they will not cease to bear in grateful remembrance the wise counsel and assistance of one whose many virtues and genuine interest in charitable efforts for the welfare of his fellow men, made his decease at once a severe private affliction and a public misfortune.

We have again the pleasure of expressing our thanks to Mrs. S. Stockton Horner, for her thoughtful liberality in furnishing the means to provide excellent and abundant dinners for our aged friends, on the Fourth of July and Thanksgiving Day. Certainly no kindness was ever more gratefully appreciated.

By reference to the Treasurer's Report, it will be seen that the Home has received a large amount of money from the Mary Shields estate, which the executors have settled with commendable and most unusual promptness. The income from this property alone, however, at present rates of interest is not sufficient, as many persons suppose, to meet the expenses of this institution, and we trust that our friends will not withdraw their subscriptions prematurely, on the plea of our reputed wealth. When they are able to dispense with this source of income the Managers will be the first to announce this happy consummation of their labors, glad to be relieved from one of the least agreeable of their duties, that of soliciting pecuniary assistance.

The Home has, indeed, been singularly blessed and prospered. We humbly desire to render thanks to that loving Father to whom we ascribe every good gift, and who has helped us to save many of his afflicted children from the sufferings of extreme poverty, and to enable them to pass the closing hours of their lives in comfort and amid Christian influences.

The Sunday afternoon services have been held regularly, and are numerous attended. Our thanks are due to the ministers of various Protestant denominations, who have cheerfully added to their often exacting duties, the work of speaking to these aged men, many of whom, owing to their infirmities, could not otherwise hear the gospel of Christ preached.

Dr. Musser is still the esteemed physician of the Home, always prompt, sympathetic and skillful. We have the satisfaction of knowing that his directions as to the care and proper nourishment of the sick are faithfully carried out by the Matron, Mrs. Scanlan, and her son, whose kindness to those who need it is gratefully acknowledged.

The Ladies wish especially to express their appreciation of the courtesy extended to them on numerous occasions by gentlemen controlling the news columns of many of our city journals; notices having been cheerfully inserted in the Inquirer, Press, Telegraph, Bulletin, Ledger and North American, either gratuitously or at extremely moderate prices.

During the year there have been 19 admissions and 12 deaths. Two of these occurred at the Norristown Asylum for the insane.

The supply of clothing received during the year has been altogether inadequate to the needs of those who depend entirely on the Home to meet their wants. Those who have sufficient means to clothe themselves are in a small minority; among them there are pensioners of the war of 1812. We would be glad if gentlemen who often discard serviceable clothing, would send it to the Old Man's Home, or if notified, the Matron will send to any address for it.

By order of the Board,

MRS. FRED'K W. GRAYSON,

Secretary.

AN ACT

TO INCORPORATE THE OLD MAN'S HOME.

WHEREAS, An Association denominated "THE OLD MAN'S HOME" has been formed for the purpose of affording relief and the comforts of a home to old men in indigent circumstances, the members of which desire to be incorporated; to enable them more effectually to accomplish their object; therefore:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the persons who are now or shall hereafter become members of said Association according to the By-Laws be, and the same are hereby created and erected into one body politic and corporate in deed and in law. by the name, style and title of "THE OLD MAN'S HOME OF PHILADELPHIA."

SEC. 2. That said Corporation by the same name, style and title shall have perpetual succession, and be able to sue and be sued, implead and be impleaded in all courts of law and elsewhere, to have and make a corporate seal, and again at pleasure to alter and renew the same, and shall be able and capable in law and equity to take, purchase, hold and receive to them and their successors, any lands, tenements, goods and chattels of whatever kind, nature or quality, real, mixed or personal, which are now or shall, or may at any time hereafter become the property of the said Corporation or body politic by purchase, gift, grant, bargain, sale, conveyance, devise, bequest or otherwise, from any person or persons whomsoever capable of making the same, and the same to grant, bargain, sell, improve, or dispose of for the use and benefit of the said Corporation.

SEC. 3. That no misnomer of said Corporation, or their associates or successors, shall defeat or annul any intended gift, grant, conveyance, devise or bequest thereto, nor any act or deed intended to be done or made thereby.

SEC. 4. The affairs of said Corporation shall be exclusively under the control of a Board of Managers not exceeding twenty-four in number, who shall be elected by the members of the Corporation at their annual meeting; said Managers to serve until their successors are appointed. The Board of Managers shall appoint the officers of this Corporation from its own body, and shall have power to fill vacancies occurring in the intervals of election, either from death, resignation, removal or inattention to the duties as Managers: to make By-Laws for its government and for the management of the Home, the safe keeping of the funds and other property of this Corporation, and their appropriation and use in accordance with the intent and purposes of this institution, and to attend to all other business of the said Corporation not herein provided for.

SEC. 5. That the affairs of said Corporation shall never be under the control of any sectarian influence.

SEC. 6. That the buildings and grounds used for "The Old Man's Home" shall, during the term of such occupancy, be exempt from taxation, except for State purposes.

RULES FOR THE REGULATION OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

1st. The Managers shall meet on the second Thursday of every month; 10½ A. M. Business shall commence precisely half an hour after the time appointed for meeting.

2d. Five of the Managers shall form a quorum for the transaction of all business.

3d. Every meeting shall be opened with reading a portion of Scripture by the Secretary, succeeded by a pause for mental supplication.

4th. No person shall be at liberty to withdraw from the Broad without permission; and no conversation but such as relates to business, shall be allowed.

5th. Every motion, when made, shall be stated from the Chair: when seconded, the Directress shall invite discussion upon the subject; after which she shall ask if the members are ready for the question, which being assented to, the votes shall be taken first in the affirmative and next in the negative. No other business shall be taken up by the Board, or discussed by any of the members, until that which has thus been laid before them is decided or postponed.

6th. At the desire of any member of the Board, the decision of a new question may be deferred to the meeting succeeding that at which the question was proposed.

7th. No former resolution shall be reconsidered unless called for by one of the majority, and shall in all cases be deferred to the next meeting, either special or stated, for decision.

8th. Upon motion made and seconded, the names of the yeas and nays shall be recorded on the Minutes.

9th. The member first named on a committee shall preside over it, shall give notice of the time and place of meeting, and make report of their proceedings.

10th. The first Directress shall call extra meetings as often as she may think proper, but shall not be obliged to call them contrary to her own judgment, unless five members of the Board shall concur in requesting it.

11th. The seal of the Society shall not be affixed to any paper without the vote of the Board having been taken on it.

12th. The business of each stated meeting shall commence with the reading of the Minutes of the preceding meeting by the Secretary, afterwards the Treasurer's report and the reports of the committees, which if not presented, must be asked for by the Directress. Then unfinished business; any new business; the weekly committees for the ensuing month shall be named, and the orders on the Treasurer voted.

13th. The Board shall not rise until the time and place of the next meeting be distinctly made known.

14th. At the first meeting of the Board, the standing committees shall be appointed, viz: The Weekly Committees of two, for the year, which shall be inserted by the Secretary in the Minute Book of the Committee; the Purchasing Committee, and the Committee for Receiving Applications for admission.

DUTIES OF THE MANAGERS.

The First Directress shall preside at the meetings of the Managers, preserve order, appoint committees, call special meetings, and in all equal divisions of the Board, give the casting vote. She shall furnish every new member with a book containing, in print, the Constitution, the Rules for the Regulation of the Board, the Duties of the Managers, and the Rules for the Government of the Home. When a Manager resigns her seat at the Board, she is to return this book to the First Directress, who will make it over to her successor.

The Second Directress shall preside in the absence of the First Directress, and attend to all the duties of the office. She shall hold the seal of the Corporation, and affix the same to any document when called upon so to do by the first Directress and the Secretary, or Treasurer.

The Secretary shall notify the Managers of the meetings of the Board, keep a fair and correct record of their proceedings; a register of the name, place of birth and age of the inmates of the Home, and do all other writing not otherwise provided for.

The Treasurer shall hold the evidences of property belonging to the Corporation, receive all moneys, and deposit the same in a bank—designated by the Board—in her name, as Treasurer: make no payments except by order of the Board of Managers, keep a fair account of all receipts and expenditures, which account shall at all times be open to the inspection of the Managers. She shall furnish a monthly abstract of her receipts and expenditures, and of the balance remaining in her hands, and prepare a statement to be laid before the Society at their annual meeting.

The Managers shall be divided into committees of two, who, in weekly rotation, shall superintend the Home, under the name of the “Visiting Committee.”

The Visiting Committee shall visit the Home not less than three times during their week, they shall endeavor to be present once at a meal, shall make themselves acquainted with the situation and wants of the inmates, generally direct the concerns of the family, and report their observations in a minute book, which book on the last day of their week, is to be sent to the succeeding committee, for which purpose a list of the Visiting Committees is to be kept in the book.

The Purchasing Committee shall make all purchases necessary for the family, pay all bills, and present a monthly account of their proceedings to the Board.

The Committee for Receiving Applications.—It shall be the duty of this committee to visit the applicants, and inquire into their character and circumstances, and make their report thereon to the Board in writing. It shall also be the duty of this committee to keep a register of the names of the applicants, the persons by whom they are recommended, and their place of residence. (It will be likewise required that the Treasurer keep a book, in which the terms of agreement entered into between the committee and the friends of the applicants, be inserted, with their signatures annexed. No person will be admitted into the Home without an order from the Treasurer.)

Church Committee.—A committee shall be appointed to see that the Home is duly supplied with the preaching of the Gospel, and have a general superintendence of this important concern. Any minister properly authorized as a preacher of the Gospel by any evangelical denomination of Christians, shall be cordially received, and none other will be admitted. The whole duty of suppling the Home with the preaching of the Gospel to devolve on this committee, which they will be expected carefully and conscientiously to discharge ; and the other members of the Board of Managers will be required to communicate with this committee and obtain their consent previous to introducing any one into the Home as a religious instructor. The committee shall make such regulations as may appear to them proper and regular, with respect to prayer meetings or any other religious meetings, from time to time. The committee shall give verbal instructions to the Matron how to act in relation to this subject in the absence of the committee.

Each Manager will be furnished by the Treasurer with a list of subscribers, whose contributions she will be expected annually to collect.

Any Manager absenting herself from three consecutive stated meetings of the Board without sufficient cause, will be considered as having resigned.

The duties of the Managers appear to be generally comprised in the foregoing rules, in addition to which it shall be considered the duty of the Visiting Committees at the Home, during their stated periods of attendance, not only to inquire into the temporal welfare of its inmates, but to visit them in their several rooms and endeavor to ascertain their spiritual state, giving them such advice and instruction as may be in their power and the circumstances of the case may render necessary.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

1st. No person shall be admitted into the Home without satisfactory testimonials to the propriety of their conduct and the respectability of their character.

2nd. When they are pensioners on any benevolent institution or society, it is expected that their pensions will be continued to assist in their support, and that their funeral expenses will be defrayed.

3rd. Those who have any property are required to secure the same to the Home before they are admitted. In case of their obtaining property after their admission, if they remain in the Home, it will be necessary to make it over to the institution.

4th. If the mental condition of an inmate shall become so unsound as to endanger his own and the safety of the family, and thereby render the care of a special attendant necessary, it is required that his relatives will either remove him or refrain from interference with the Managers when, in the opinion of two reputable physicians, it is found expedient to place him under the restraints of a suitable asylum.

5th. Furniture and property brought into the Home are to remain for the benefit of the institution.

6th. All persons admitted into the Home must be at least sixty years of age. At sixty the admission fee is $500, between sixty-five and seventy, $250, over seventy, $150.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF THE OLD MAN'S HOME.

1st. The Superintendent shall have entire charge of the house and keep it in order, under the directions of the Managers and Visiting Committee. She is to enforce the rules of the house, to be present at meals, see that they are properly served up, that everything is on the table before the family sit down, that suitable nourishment is provided for the sick, proper order is observed at table, and a blessing asked on each meal. She must be respectful and kind to every one in the house, and attentive as their circumstances may require; never let partiality be shown in any instance, but maintain the respect due to her station. If improper conduct is observed in any member of the family, she is to inform the Visiting Committee. A list should be made of whatever supplies are necessary, and given to the Purchasing Committee. It is also expected that the Matron will keep a memorandum of every article that is sent to the house, whether purchases or donations, and by whom sent.

2d. Morning and evening prayers to be regularly performed at the Home. Every inmate will be expected punctually to attend, except in case of sickness. Notice to be given by ringing the bell.

3rd. It will be required that those who are capable render service for the benefit of the Home.

4th. All that is necessary for the comfortable support of the inmates of the Home will be furnished from the funds of the Society. No individual therefore, will, on any account, be permitted to leave the institution to solicit assistance.

5th. All who are able will attend at the general table. If any of the family are sick, a suitable meal will be provided and sent to their rooms.

6th. If any inmate of the Home feels disposed to visit his friends, he is requested to mention to the Matron where he intends staying, and the probable length of his visit, that no uneasiness may exist on his account; and that, in case of sickness or accident, the Managers may know where he is to be found.

7th. No stimulants or spirituous liquors to be used in the Home, except by order of the physician; and, in that case, to be administered by the Matron.

8th. No inmate will be permitted to interfere or find fault with the Matron or assistant; but if they think they have cause of complaint, they must apply to the Managers, who will receive their statement and take such order thereon as they may think proper.

9th. It is required that all visitors be treated with respect and attention, and conducted through any part of the building they may be disposed to visit. Particular attention to be paid to ministers of the Gospel, and those whose visits are made for religious purposes. No inmate of the Home will be permitted to introduce any preacher of the Gospel or invite their friends to give religious instruction, without the consent of the Church Committee.

10th. To preserve perfect harmony in the family, the strictest attention must be paid to the rules of the Home.

For the first and second violation, there will be an admonition; for a third, a complaint will be preferred to the Board; for a fourth, a removal from the Home.
